

Kristi M. Simonsen

Kristi M. Simonsen is the Business Manager for Kirkpatrick Partners.

She has over 20 years of experience in the corporate world with an extensive background in healthcare management, human resources, operations, and training, for both the healthcare and financial industries. She is passionate about helping others thrive and reaching their potential in both a professional and personal capacity.

Kristi is a native of Georgia where she resides with her son. She also enjoys crocheting and has published more than 70 of her own patterns and eBooks as well as taught classes to teach others the craft. Her work has been on display in many countries and won several awards for their original design.

Kirkpatrick
Partners

The Standard for Leveraging and Validating Talent Investments™